Crime and Punishment

Our history topic this term would have been 'Crime and Punishment', starting with crime and punishment in Britain during the Roman era.

Use your research skills to answer the following questions;

- How has crime changed in Britain since Roman times?
- How was crime detected in Roman times?
- How were criminals tried in Roman times?
- What were common punishments for criminals in Roman times?

How are you going to present this information?

We will be working on this project over the next few weeks.
